

To decrease the user's mass falcifications, to support the pop stars, developers of FAVOR.com.ua, has forced to implement validation of unique email address upon registration.

«I'm sick and tired of those falcificators!», — has claimed today the project's technical director Aleksey Kuznetsov, — «on the older web site they has deleted cookies, now, on our new Consumer's Portal, they has started specifying spurious, unexisting emails! Whether its really so hard for the fans of respecting singers like Mogilevska, Ruslana, or Tina Karol, to vote in a dozen of other nominations of the competition?! I am sick and tired to delete dozens of accounts with obviously spurious emails, which users using the same IP(!) registering many times at row, producing disposable profiles, and voting in only one nomination for one and the same person!!?» — has sum up Mr. Kuznetsov with anger.

Other staff members of FAVOR.com.ua portal and the «Favorites of Success» competition, has sceptically perceived new measures, however, expecting that this new measures could significantly decrease the number of falcifications and will make the competition's poll much more objective!
